

Gender Pay Gap (GPG) Report

In accordance with the European Union Pay Equity and Transparency Directive, effective from 2026, entities employing over 100 individuals are mandated to disclose the Gender Pay Gap (GPG) across various compensation elements. The directive outlines eight critical points, detailed within this document, that organizations are required to report annually, although reporting frequencies may vary based on the size of the workforce.